Keynote

Walt Havenstein is the former Chief Executive Officer of SAIC. During his tenure, Mr. Havenstein grew SAIC to an $11 billion, FORTUNE 250 scientific, engineering, and technology applications company. He also expanded the company's footprint in commercial health, energy and environment markets while maintaining SAIC's leading position in Federal and Defense sectors. He was also a member of the company's board of directors.

Prior to joining SAIC, Havenstein served as chief operating officer and member of the board of directors for BAE Systems plc, a global aerospace and defense company; and as president and chief executive officer of BAE Systems Inc., the company's wholly owned U.S. subsidiary.

Havenstein served on active duty in the U.S. Marine Corps from 1971 to 1983, specializing in tactical communications and systems acquisition management, and completed his career in the Marine Corps Reserve in 1999, retiring as a colonel.

He is the former chairman of the Board of Directors of FIRST® (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology), a not-for-profit organization founded to inspire young people's interest and participation in science and technology. He currently serves as the Chairman of the Audit Committee for FIRST's Board of Directors. Havenstein is also currently a member of the Board of Directors of the McAuliffe-Shepard Discovery Center in Concord, New Hampshire and is serving as the Chairman of the New Hampshire chapter of Americans for Peace, Prosperity and Security (APPS).

He was also the Republican nominee for Governor of New Hampshire in 2014
